SIXTEEN LIVES ARE LOST IN A $1,500,000 FIRE

Panic Following the First Outbreak of Flames in Park Avenue Hotel is Indescribable.

Frightful Explosion of Ammunition Added Fury To Flames and Terror to Spectators.

Slush Knee Deep Blocked the Fire Apparatus On Way to the Scene.

HOTEL GUESTS JUMPED FROM UPPER WINDOWS.

Others Suffocated in Groping for the Stairways--The Fatalities Were the Result of the Fearful Panic Which Followed the Cries of Fire--The Dead and Injured.

New York, Feb. 22.—A fire disaster in which 16 people lost their lives, at least fifty were injured, and $1,000,000 worth of property was destroyed, wiped out the Seventy-first regiment armory and gutted the Park Avenue Hotel at the corner of Park Avenue and Thirty-fourth street, this morning.

More may die, for in the hospital are two score with injuries more or less serious, some with internal hurts which the doctors fear they cannot alleviate. Some of the less seriously injured went to various hotels, private residences and sanitariums and the extent of their injuries is not known.

The fire lasted scarcely five hours and yet in that time it proved one of the worst holocausts in recent years. All of the dead and injured were guests at the hotel and all of the dead but four lost their lives in the midst of the fire. The others succumbed after a short time of suffering in the New York and Bellevue hospitals. The dead as far as identified at noon today are:

THE DEAD.

Charles Underwood O'Connell, grand nephew of Daniel O'Connell.

Norman Acton, died in New York hospital; residence unknown.

Jacobs Spahn, Rochester, N. Y., died at Bellevue hospital.

John Iveson, Denver, found in hotel.

J. H. Horne, Denver, found in hotel.

George A. Robbins, residence unknown, died at Bellevue.

Fred S. Hovey, Lyons, N. Y., died at Bellevue.

John E. Walker, Columbia, Tenn., found in hotel.

Col. Piper, U. S. A., found in hotel.

Col. Burdett, Hartford, Conn., found in hotel.

Wm. Barnard, Chicago, found in hotel.

Mrs. McManus, elderly invalid, found in hotel.

Miss Esther Schlessinger, Chicago, daughter of prominent Chicago merchant, guest at hotel.

Three other unidentified women found in hotel. This brings the total of the dead up to sixteen.

Mrs. Foster, known as the "Angel of Tombs prison."

About 11 o'clock this morning two daughters of the last of the bodies to be identified—that of Mrs. Foster—arrived at the hotel and were taken to the room where the three charred and burned remains lay.

The bodies were examined carefully and in a short time one was identified as that of Mrs. Foster, who had a room on one of the upper floors of the hotel. The identification was made possible by some jewelry. Mrs. Foster was one of the best known women in New York, her ministrations at the Tombs prison attracting wide-spread attention.

Mrs. Emma Louise Braggon is also reported missing. She is a western woman and had a room on the fifth floor of the hotel. She may be one of the dead.

THE INJURED.

Among the injured at New York hospital, where the most seriously hurt were taken, are:

Caroline L. R. Hall, 79 years of age, of Hill street, Newark, N. J.; burned about the legs and body and suffering from shock.

Anna G. Hill, a sister of Caroline Hall, 56 years old; burned about the hands and body.

Wm. B. Hale of Williamsville, Mass., suffering from suffocation.

Other injured are: Wm. A. Gove, 52 years old, suffering from shock; Catherine N. Bennett, Harold L. Bennett, Rev. Wm. S. Boardman, Frank Everhard, Chas. A. Gregory, E. S. Heise, Henry W. Livingstone, Josephine Pease, Wm. Stubbins, Louise L. Woodbury.

The fire started in the drill room of the 71st Regiment Armory shortly before 2 o'clock this morning during a howling gale and sleety rain. It spread rapidly.

Two hundred and fifty people living in tenements, flats and houses nearby were hustled from their beds into the cold.

Dynamite stored in the armory. It was feared, would explode, but this danger was subsequently averted by daring men who removed the explosive to a place of safety.

The sparks from the burning armory flew to the car sheds nearby and details of firemen were sent to restrain the flames in this direction. The Park Avenue hotel, situated across the armory, did not seem endangered. Guests aroused by the light from the fire went to the windows, raised them and stood chatting as they watched the burning armory. Suddenly from a hallway on the fifth floor came exciting cries. The sound of crackling flames, the breaking of heated glass, the volumes of smoke rolling through corridors, had warned the guests of their peril.

At the same time sparks flew into the open windows and caught the lace curtains. In a few minutes fire was spreading from rooms to corridors and from corridors to rooms. Sparks had fallen into an elevator well and caught at the bottom. The flames leaped rapidly to the top, catching the stairways and making escape difficult if not well nigh impossible. Men and women rushed excitedly from room to room. Those in the fourth story had a better chance but it took but a few moments apparently for the fire to spread in this direction. Up to the sixth floor the fire went and soon the three floors were like furnaces, firemen and police were soon laboring for the rescue of the imprisoned guests, but confusion was everywhere.

Sparks from the Tenderloin district did valiant work; employees of the hotel did what they could; firemen put up ladders, but in spite of every effort twelve were roasted or suffocated. Men and women climbed to the ledges outside the windows of their rooms and were rescued from there; others were too panic stricken to make other than feeble attempts to reach safety. The fire did not spread beyond the hotel and armory.

After the fire had been subdued, two men were arrested by the police; but the charge was not given out. Looting is supposed to be the cause. At noon firemen were still pouring water into the ruins of the 71st Regiment Armory but there was little danger of an outbreak. The fire in the hotel was out. The blaze there was under control about 5:30 o'clock.

At 4 o'clock, Chief Croker, who had been inside the building said that he believed a large number of dead were in the halls and corridors.

Among those who escaped were Bishop Ludden, Monsignor Kenney and a number of Catholic priests from Syracuse, N. Y., James M. Payne of Connecticut, and C. H. Stockwell of Troy, N. Y.

Admiral Miller, U. S. N., (retired) who had a room on the fifth floor of the Park Avenue hotel, fell unconscious in his attempt to escape from the burning building. It is stated that he can not recover. Admiral Miller went through the Windsor Hotel fire and the Murphy Hill explosion unscathed.

Two men whose names have not been learned attempted to escape from the Park Avenue Hotel by going to the roof. Both of them jumped from the roof later, and one man was instantly killed. The other was fatally injured.

The guests of the Park Hotel, numbering about 600 were aroused, but not without panic among the women and children. The firemen poured eleven streams upon the side of the hotel nearest the armory, but in spite of this the third floor caught fire and the flames spread to the roof. The firemen ran ladders up on every side, but were driven back by the dense volumes of smoke again and again. A little after 3 o'clock the four upper floors of the hotel were a mass of flames and the fire was spreading down through the structure. It was then apparent that the hotel was doomed.

Notwithstanding the fact that every body in the hotel had ample time to get out a large number of women were carried down the ladders by firemen, until it was thought everybody had been taken out. Just at this time a woman in her night clothes appeared at a window in the fifth floor and before warning could reach her, flung herself headlong to the portico over the main entrance. It is believed that she will die.

Two bodies were found on the fifth floor by the firemen and two more in other parts of the building. It is feared several other bodies will be found in other parts of the building.

The fire started in the armory about 2 o'clock. The large building was completely destroyed. In the building was stored a large supply of ball cartridges. These exploded at intervals, making it extremely dangerous for the firemen to work.

Half an hour after the fire started the police ordered out all the tenants of the big apartment houses on the south side of 34th street between Fourth and Lexington avenues.

In another half hour the fire spread to the hotel and also to the apartment houses. Ambulance calls were sent to Bellevue hospital.

Before 3 o'clock the car barns of the Metropolitan street railway had taken fire.

Thirty people in their night clothes or bath robes were carried down the hotel windows on the firemen's ladders.

A fireman was shot in the leg by a stray bullet in one of the explosions in the armory. He was taken to the hospital.

Sparks from the burning hotel were carried several blocks, and started another fire at Fifth avenue and Thirtieth street.

The fatalities were the result of a fearful panic which followed the cries of fire. Several jumped to death from high windows; others were suffocated in groping for stairways.

After it was thought the fire in the hotel had been subdued, at 5 o'clock it broke out afresh on the seventh floor, while the panic stricken guests were returning to their rooms for their valuables. A new panic ensued and the guests again fled in terror to the street. The ammunition exploded in the 71st regiment armory, felling the walls with a succession of shocks and crashes and the danger that great quantities of dynamite stored in the subway structures close by would be detonated added to the horror of the situation.

The fresh blaze was finally got under control at 6 o'clock and by 7 the fire was practically out although the halls of the hotel were still filled with smoke, the ruins smoldering.

The firemen worked like heroes in the face of a terrible storm of rain and sleet. Slush knee deep blocked the fire apparatus on the way to scene.

Proprietor Reid of the Park Avenue Hotel declared the fire in the hotel to be of incendiary origin.

Chief Croker on the other hand blamed the hotel people for carelessness in leaving all the front windows open and said that a spark from the armory fire started the blaze in the hotel.

The panic that followed the first outbreak of flames was indescribable. On every floor the guests appeared in their night clothing. They shrieked for aid and in their frenzy clambered out on the icy window sills.

Two women appeared at the second floor immediately above the grand entrance. They clambered out on the cornice and leaped to the sidewalk, where they fell insensible.

Firemen picked them up and carried them across 33rd street to one of the private houses. Firemen then spread the nets, and the panic stricken guests jumped into them.

The fire in Park avenue hotel swept through the fourth, fifth and sixth stories, burning them out. The rest of the hotel was gutted by fire and smoke.

The cause of the fire is unknown. It started in the drill room and in spite of the efforts of the police, spread through the building, getting beyond all control. Flying sparks flew across the street and caught in the elevator well at the Park Avenue hotel, gaining headway first on the fifth floor.

D. D. Southard who lived on the first floor, said that the only warning the guests had was the crackling of the flames the spreading of the smoke and the breaking of glass. This threw the guests into panic. They rushed through the halls yelling like mad men and women. One man supposed to be Mr. Barnard threw a string of bed-clothes from the window and started to slide to the ground. At the fourth floor he lost his hold and fell into an area way, crushed and dead.

The fire spread quickly through the fourth and sixth floors. Many of the guests were caught in a trap and woke only to die miserably in the flames; many were rescued by firemen just as their doom seemed sealed. Among these was rear Admiral Miller. He was carried out exhausted. He may die. Miller was a guest at the Windsor Hotel at the time of the fire there and was in the Murray Hill hotel when the Park avenue explosion wrecked it.

A young man named Bennett was carried down stairs by firemen, half clothed, smoke begrimed and wounded all over. As soon as he reached the air he fought the firemen off and ran through the flames swept hotel crying that his mother had been caught. His mother had been rescued and Bennett was again carried out.

One old man was carried from a fifth story window by firemen. He begged piteously that his family be rescued, but the firemen could not return. Benwick Bradley appeared at a fifth story window of the hotel. At another window a short distance away his wife was seen. They crawled along the ledge outside the windows and were saved.

The firemen worked like heroes and did what they could. People were snatched from the fire just as the flames were about to engulf them.

As the firemen worked they knew that a terrible danger threatened them. In the cellar of the armory across the street, which was ablaze from cellar to roof was stored 600 pounds of dynamite. If it exploded their lives would certainly be snuffed out. Yet they worked on with a grim determination, saving life and finally checking the progress of the flames in the hotel after they had burned down to the third floor.

The dynamite did not explode but today there is still apprehension that the explosive may let go at any time in the smoldering ruins of the armory.

At 6 o'clock this morning the firemen began a search of the wreckage of the hotel for bodies. It was not long before they came tramping down with ghastly burdens. Twelve burned and charred bodies have been found. Five of them were women. The bodies were all burned beyond recognition and such identifications as have been made were by articles found on the bodies.

Four of the injured died in the hospitals making the list of dead 16.

Most of the injuries received were through burns and exhaustion from inhalation of smoke.

At Bellevue there are fourteen injured, while at the New York hospital there are half a dozen others.

Many persons were treated in a sanitarium across from the hotel.

The total number of injured is about fifty.

The financial loss on the armory is $650,000, and $75,000 equipment there in. The hotel loss will reach more than $200,000.

Other losses will make the total probably to $1,500,000.

MARCONI

The Wireless Telegraph Expert Sailed Saturday for the United States on the Philadelphia

Southampton, Feb. 22.—Marconi sailed for the United States today on the steamer Philadelphia, which is fitted with new and powerful wireless receivers and transmitters. Marconi expects to communicate with England and Nantucket at a distance of 1000 miles. The Philadelphia will thus be severed from land communication only by a day during the voyage.

BIG SNOW STORM.

New York, Feb. 22.—A man was visited by a heavy snow storm this morning cutting the city off from outside communication for a time. All outdoor clocks were frozen tight.

BY LIVE WIRES.

Jersey City, Feb. 22.—A man supposed to be Wm. Burke and more than 30 horses were killed here today by coming in contact with live electric light and trolley wires.

TONIGHT'S FIGHT.

Louisville, Feb. 22.—All Louisville is fight mad and the throng which will welcome the little gladiators, McGovern and Sullivan as they clamber into the ring will pack the auditorium to the limits tonight.

STRIKES AND RIOTS.

Several Workmen are Killed and a Great Many are Injured.

SPANISH MINISTERS ARE VERY MUCH ALARMED

Over Threats That Workmen May Not Allow Alfonso to be Crowned--Outlook for Next May is Dark--Weyler Asks for a Free Hand--Sagasta May Resign.

Vienna, Feb. 22.—Arbeiter Zeitung today reports serious strikes and riots in Moscow and Kharkoff. Ten thousand workmen are involved. The troops charged the rioters with the result that many of the workmen were killed and injured. In Moscow four workmen met death and fifty-seven were injured. In Kharkoff three were killed and 100 injured.

Madrid, Feb. 22.—The labor disturbances continue throughout Spain, though the most serious ones are in the province of Catalonia. Troops from the south, unable even to understand the Catalan dialect, have been moved northward and will be able to control the situation. The Government believes that the crisis is over. The ministers, however, are alarmed at the threats made that if the workmen's demands are not granted they will never allow Alfonso to be crowned. The whole affair makes the outlook for next May very dark. The workmen want an increase in wages and also demand a decrease in the price of staples, particularly bread. This started the strike.

London, Feb. 22.—It is announced in a special dispatch from Madrid that General Weyler, the War Minister, is urging the Queen Regent to give him a free hand in dealing with the "rebels in Catalonia," and that Premier Sagasta threatens to resign if General Weyler's request is granted. The Queen is said to favor Weyler's plan.

Barcelona, Thursday, February 20.—Forty persons have been killed since the disturbances broke out here.

The ordinary necessities of life are failing and the distress is becoming accentuated. The strikers are said to be receiving large sums of money from London.

The predominance of bayonets has had effect and the most turbulent spirits have been driven off the streets.

Outwardly the city is assuming an aspect of comparative quiet. The leading citizens are joining the military and civil authorities in restoring order.

In neighboring towns the disturbances are spreading and are increasing in gravity.

Madrid, Feb. 22.—The search of suspected houses at Barcelona continues, resulting in the arrest of large numbers of Anarchists and revolutionists of all kinds, who are considered to be prime movers in the troubles.

Martial law has been proclaimed at Tarragona. The strike is spreading in the Llobregat and Cardener valleys.

Ten Anarchists have been arrested here, and officers are under surveillance. The working people of Madrid remain quiet.

FELL BACK

Upon the Bed and Died Without Warning—Death Comes to Wm. Moats Near Utica.

Utica, O., Feb. 22.—William Moats, while sitting on the edge of his bed at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at his home about three miles southeast of Homer, fell back and died from heart disease. Mr. Moats who was 80 years, seven months and 14 days of age, while in feeble condition had not been in ill health and his death was wholly unexpected and was quite a shock to the community.

Mr. Moats lived on the Dr. Coleman farm. Besides the widow, the following sons and daughters survive: Clinton, Mrs. Jane Bishop, Mrs. Coleman, Charles and Frank Moats.

It has been arranged to conduct the funeral services at 10 o'clock on Sunday morning.

Wooster Fund Raised.

It is announced that the $100,000 required by Wooster university has been raised with $5000 above that sum.

The itemized account is as follows: Insurance, $60,000; Wayne county, $30,000; Mr. Severance, of Cleveland, $40,000; the church at large, $100,000; a gentleman of New York city, $100,000. The college trustees, faculty and students are celebrating the happy event at Wooster.

A trustees' meeting will be held in the near future, directly after which the buildings will be commenced.

An Awful Death.

Columbus, O., Feb. 22.—W. A. Rawlins, a hocking Valley brakeman, met with a frightful death near Canal Winchester today. Rawlins' head was torn from his body. His right arm was also broken. The explosion of an injector is said to have been responsible for his death.

WHY HE LEFT.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 22.—August Cluff drove from Chicago to Denver in an open buggy, abandoning home and position to escape from his wife, who, he says, put loads in his boots and persecuted him.

VAN VOORHIS

MAY RETAIN HIS SEAT IN CONGRESS.

By Having a New Judgeship Created to Pacify Grok Browning—How It Stands.

Columbus, O., Feb. 22.—Congressman Van Voorhis, of the Zanesville District, brother of S. F. Van Voorhis, of Newark, has been in trouble ever since the last Republican State Convention, when through Van Voorhis's mismanagement Judge Crew was beaten for a Supreme Court nomination. Crew comes from Morgan county and his defeat was an embarrassment to the Congressman. There have been insurgents in every county in the district, but Mr. Van Voorhis's chief lieutenant, George K. Browning, at Zanesville, created consternation in the stalwart camp by asking the boys how they would like to see Browning in Congress instead of Van Voorhis.

Browning made great progress in his canvass, being aided by the Courier, General Brown's Zanesville paper.

Van Voorhis, shrewd enough to see that with a division in his organization in Muskingum county he would be lost has cast about to take Browning out of the race. It is now proposed to have this present Legislature create a new judgeship for Muskingum county and pacify Browning with the judgeship. If such a law can be passed Van Voorhis has a chance to win another term in Congress.

All this goes to show what the Republican managers will do to keep one of their number permanently in office.

BRITISH MAKE A RUPTURE.

London, Feb. 22.—General Kitchener reports that Colonel Hark surprised the Boer force on Nootgedacht capturing 164 prisoners and a large supply of arms and stores. The prisoners include Field Cornet Jubert, Lieutenant Viljoen and other officers. The British had no casualties.

The round the world cruise of the Duke and Duchess of York cost the British Government $540,000.

BEYOND DOUBT.

These Facts Must Convince Every Newark Reader.

That which follows is the experience of a resident of Newark. Incredulity cannot exist about the statement because it can easily be investigated.

Mrs. Geo. Graft of No. 25 Spencer St., says, "I had a terrible bad back which successfully resisted all efforts in the way of medicines and porous plasters to relieve it. It was just across the loins where the greatest strains falls, so that I could not get up when I was down, I awakened in the morning I moved about at my household work scarcely able to shift my body. As I was often in actual torture. For three months I suffered all the time until one day a neighbor gave me a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills, I took them and the benefit was so apparent I sent to Crayton's drug store and procured a box. Before very long I discarded the plasters, the kidney secretions looked clear and natural and I had not a pain in my head or back."

THIRTEEN DOCTORS FAILED.

Mrs. M. A. Close, of Nebraska, Was Cured of Incipient Consumption After All Medical Aid Had Failed—Read Her Letter.

MRS. M. A. CLOSE.

AN OLD COLD

Is Catarrh, and Catarrh Leads to Consumption.

The tendency of catarrh of the head is to pass downward through the bronchial tubes to the lungs. Any one who has had catarrh of the head for a year or more finds the disease gradually progressing downward. In some cases the progress is rapid, and in other cases it is slow; but sooner or later if catarrh is allowed to run, it will go to the lungs and set up the disease known as consumption. It is doubtful if consumption is ever caused by anything except catarrh.

The catarrh usually begins as a cold in the head or throat, and is neglected until it becomes chronic; then it begins to dawn on the victim that he has catarrh. Unless he is very foolish indeed he will not rest easy until the catarrh is entirely cured. Thousands pay no attention to it until it is too late.

Mrs. J. Priest, Lee, Mich., writes:—"I think there is no medicine on earth that excels Peruna. My husband won't take any other. We have tested it and it worked a great change in my son's health last spring when we thought he was going into consumption. We gave him only one bottle and he was all right. I tell everybody about how much good it has done us. My husband says he can't do without it. As for myself it saved me seven years ago from going blind. I could not see to read one word for six weeks. I thought I should surely lose my sight. I commenced taking Peruna and by the time I had taken one bottle I could see to read as well as ever. We think it is a grand medicine."—Mrs. J. Priest.

Use as Much as Needed.

If Peruna is used a cold never becomes chronic, and hence catarrh is prevented. But after catarrh has become thoroughly established Peruna will cure it, but it will take much longer. Even in cases where catarrh has attacked the lungs and the symptoms of consumption have shown themselves, the Peruna will cure. A great many cases of genuine consumption have been cured with Peruna after the patient had been given up to die, as in the case of Mrs. Close.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Miss Corinne Gilmore, 105 Vance St., Memphis, Tenn., uses Peruna for colds and catarrh.

Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio:

Dear Doctor:—I desire to express to you my sincere thanks for the interest you have shown in my case, and for the timely aid and advice which has effected a cure of as bad a case of consumption as could be well imagined.

"Peruna and Manlin have done what thirteen of the best physicians in the country have failed to do. For more than three years I doctored for consumption, and spent thirteen weeks in a Pulmonary Sanitarium at Milwaukee, Wis.; but finding myself growing worse, as a last resort, I came West where I was bedfast for many weeks, and the physicians which my husband called gave no hope but said, 'She cannot possibly live more than a few days.' But thanks to Peruna, I fooled them all. In an incredibly short time after I began to take Peruna the hemorrhages stopped. I began to mend slowly at first, but the improvement became more marked, and now I can truthfully say that there is not the slightest trace of my old complaint.

"I would have written you a long time ago, but have purposely waited to see if the effect was lasting; and in conclusion I would say, God bless you and keep you with us that you may go on with your work of mercy for many years to come."—MRS. M. A. CLOSE.

P. S.—"I am going to visit friends in Wisconsin who never expected to see me although, so please forward mail to me at 579 Pacific street, Appleton, Wis."—M. A. C.

Smith's Universal Cough Cure has No Superior

As a remedy for all acute lung affections. It can always be relied upon to cure a severe cold on the lungs if taken in time, because

First—It soothes the membranes of the throat and relieves that tickling and irritation.

Second—It is mildly sedative and its action quiets the nerves and tones down feverish conditions.

Third—Its expectorant properties loosen the phlegm and mucus and aids in its expulsion from the throat and lungs, thereby effecting a permanent curing the cold.

Be wise. Keep a bottle in the house. 25 and 50 cents.

BAZAAR WAS SUCCESSFUL.

The bazaar given by the ladies of St. Paul's Lutheran Church was eminently successful. The bazaar was given to raise funds for the new church and as the ladies of this active church always do, they raised the amount, $328.

SEVENTY-TWO

Years Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Brown

Have Lived Together—Indiana's

Oldest Married Couple.

Hagerstown, Ind., Feb. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Brown, whose home is at the edge of Hagerstown are undoubtedly the oldest married couple now living in Indiana. On Feb. 20, 1820, they were married in Jefferson Township, Wayne county, Ind., and yesterday celebrated the seventy-second anniversary of their marriage.

Brown was born near Cynthiana, Ky., December 25, 1808. He came to Wayne county, Ind., when but a child and has lived in the same township ever since.

Mrs. Brown was Miss Margaret Burns. She was born near Wayneville, O., July 17, 1811. She also came to this township at an early age. The old couple are in fairly good health. They were the parents of 11 children, five of whom are dead. There are 50 grandchildren and 49 great grandchildren living. They are among the wealthiest people of the township.

What Causes Headache.

Exhausted and irritable conditions of the Nervous System produce Headaches. The cure is to restore the action of the nerves to their normal condition and give the heart a tonic. Clinie Headache Wafers are just this cure; they act on the Nerves and are a tonic to the heart. Absolutely harmless. 10 cents at Hall's drug store.

The money some men owe doesn't trouble them so much as the money the money they would like to owe.

POEM

Upon the Eleven O'Clock Toast by Judge Brister Written for the Elks' Antler.

The Elks' Antler, one of the leading publications of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, published in the city of New York, for the present month, contains the following poem upon the "Eleven O'Clock Toast," by Judge E. M. P. Brister, of this city:

"OUR ABSENT BROTHERS."

By E. M. P. Brister, P. E. R.

Newark, Ohio.

Dedicated to Brother Al G. Field.

Yes, there is the toast to Elksdom dear.

More sacred than all others;

The one that we tonight drink here,

The toast—"Our Absent Brothers."

We meet around the festive board;

With joy we greet each other;

But oceans wide cannot divide

Us from the absent brother.

The jest goes round—the merry laugh;

Our griefs with joy we smother;

And yet, and yet, we cannot forget

The wandering absent brother.

And there are those—no longer he—

Their places filled by others;

They passed into the great unknown—

Our dear, absent brothers.

So when the clock in the old church

tower,

Chimes the sweet and mystic eleven;

We drink to the absent brothers on earth.

To the absent brothers in Heaven.

God grant when at the last we go

From this life to that other.

That from Heaven's bright eternal home

There will be no absent brother.

It is well to profit by our mistakes;

but it is better not to make any.

To name a cigar after an actress doesn't make it draw any better.

No, Maude, dear; a bucket shop is not a place where stocks are watered.

IN THE LODGE ROOM.

Woodmen of America.

Cedar Camp, No. 4727, Modern Woodmen of America, held a very interesting and enthusiastic meeting on Wednesday evening and adopted four candidates and balloted on 8 applications.

A committee from the new Camp of Modern Woodmen of America at Jacksontown was in attendance at the last meeting of Cedar Camp and carried a few bouquets home with them.

The new robes for the officers of Cedar Camp, has arrived and will give the ceremonies a much nicer appearance.

On next Wednesday evening the members of Cedar Camp will hold another one of their popular open meetings, and after a good musical and literary program they will partake of another one of their famous oyster sandwiches, gotten up by the Woodmen only. Every Woodman is expected to be present with a friend.

The regular ball and drill of the Forester Team of Cedar Camp Modern Woodmen of the World, was held in Brennan's Hall on Thursday night with a large attendance. The Solid Four orchestra furnished the music for the occasion, and all who were present had a most enjoyable time.

At the last meeting of Camp 6017, Modern Woodmen of America, of Alexandria, the ranks were conferred on one candidate.

Johnstown Camp No. 109, Woodmen of America, met on Monday evening and initiated four candidates. A meeting was appointed for next Monday evening. The society is now fully organized with the following officers in the several chairs:

P. C. C.—H. A. Bishop.
P. C.—D. W. Scovell
A. L.—D. Blamer.
Clerk—F. M. Preston.
Banker—A. A. Rich.
Watchman—Earl Hisey.
Sentry—John Simmons.
Mgrs.—E. W. Roberts, Geo. Garlinghouse, H. P. Whitehead.

Court of Honor.

Newark City Court of Honor will meet in regular session on Tuesday evening of next week. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance of the members, as there will be considerably business of importance to transact.

Ben Hur.

Alpha Court, No. 51, Tribe of Ben Hur, will meet on next Thursday night Feb. 27, on which occasion there will be an initiation of candidates. Visitors from Columbus, and Zanesville Courts are expected to be present. After the completion of the work, refreshments will be served and a social season will be indulged in.

The American Protective Union.

Newark Council No. 1, held its regular meeting on Tuesday Feb. 18th at which time a class of seventy-five new candidates were instructed in the mysteries of the 1st degree. Business of importance was transacted, and after due consideration the Charter was left open.

The American Protective Union is one of the youngest but the most progressive orders, and the benefits derived by the members has nothing equal to it in this country, and its success is assured. The Founder and the officers are highly complemented for their ability and tact, which they so richly deserve.

The Supreme Organizer A. L. Simmons, is very busy in getting ready an Auxiliary Council for ladies which has already fifty names on the charter list, and will be instituted in about ten days. Applications are received at office located at the Newark Savings Bank.

The Supreme Organizer has visited John Dial who met with accident at the B. & O. yards and handed check for the two weeks benefit, which was much appreciated by our friend. We all wish him a speedy recovery. Members are requested to send in their applications to the office so they can receive the proper attention.

Knights of Pythias.

At the regular meeting of Newark Lodge, No. 12, K. of P., held on Thursday night, there was a good attendance of the members, besides a number of visitors. One petition was received, one candidate elected to membership and the Esquire rank was conferred on two applicants.

The members of the Pythian lodges are making great preparations for the District meeting which is to be held in this city in the lodge room of Newark Lodge, No. 13 on next Thursday afternoon and evening. The district is composed of the lodges in Licking, Muskingum, Coshocton and Guernsey counties. The afternoon session of the meeting will open at one o'clock. Grand Chancellor L. W. Ellenwood, of Marietta and Grand Keeper of Records and Seals, William Beatty, of Toledo, will be present, and it is expected that a number of the other Grand officers will also be present. In the evening the Knight rank will be worked by the Fidelity team of Coshocton and the team of White Cross Lodge of Johnstown. At the conclusion of the work refreshments will be served and a social session will be held for a short time.

The arrangements are all complete for the grand ball to be given by Licking Company, No. 121, U. R. K. P., at Brennan's Hall on Thursday evening of next week, and the affair promises to be a great event, and one that will be a credit to Licking Company.

Alexandria lodge, K. of P., conferred the Esquire and Knight Ranks on Tuesday night. After the work all enjoyed a good lunch.

Daughters of Liberty.

Silver Star Council No. 8 Daughters of Liberty, the following officers, were installed Jan. 24th, 1902:

Councilor—Mary Loughman.
A. Councilor—Tilla Shaw.
A. V. Councilor—Laura Wood.
V. Councilor—Bell Grill.
Rec. Sec.—Carrie Miller.
Associate Rec. Sec.—Mrs. Chas. Abell.
Treasurer—Bell Sunderland.
I. P.—Lizzie Mitchell.
O. P.—Annie French.
Trustee—Silver Star Council, No. 8, Daughters of Liberty, met in regular session on Friday night, Feb. 14, with a good attendance. After the work of the Council had been transacted all were invited to the banquet room, where all partook of the fine supper and a good social time was enjoyed by all who were present.

Odd Fellows.

On Thursday night of last week about 40 members of St. Louisville Lodge I. O. O. F. with their wives met at the lodge room and enjoyed an evening in social entertainment. Prof. Horner and Irvin Warthen rendered some very nice songs in their usual good form, after which a light lunch was served consisting of ham sandwiches, cake and coffee.—Utica Herald.

The bonded indebtedness of the Philadelphia Odd Fellows' Temple is $578,500.

The Grand Encampment of Iowa, voted $300 to be expended in advancing the interests of the Patriarchs Militant.

The Odd Fellow's Home of Connecticut has entered upon the tenth year of its existence and has $34,267.96 in invested funds.

The Odd Fellow's Home of Kentucky shelters 39 children and two widows. More room is needed and over $9,000 has been subscribed toward the erection of an additional building. In connection with the Home is a herd of registered Jersey cows, one of the finest in the Blue Grass State. Since it was bought the herd has supplied the Home with milk, cream and butter and in addition to this has brought an income of $1,500.

The Jurisdiction of Pennsylvania supports two Odd Fellows' Homes, besides the Home for widows and orphans at Ben Avon and the Home for Odd Fellows at Philadelphia. Thirty-one boys and nine girls are sheltered and preserved from vice and infamy, at the Western Home, located at Meadville, and 49 of the bereaved little one have equally good care at the Central Home, located at Sunbury.

In Olive Branch Lodge 34, last Tuesday night, the first degree was conferred on one candidate, one was elected to membership, and one application was received.

There are three members of Olive Branch lodge on the sick list.

On next Tuesday night the second degree will be worked and it is desired that there be a large attendance.

Word was received in Newark this week that John Smith, better known as "Little John the Machinist," formerly of this city, and for many years Secretary of Olive Branch Lodge, had died in Cleveland last Tuesday of paralysis of the brain. He was buried under the auspices of the order on Thursday.

Gray Hair a Crime?

Thousands of men and women are turned out of positions and many fail to secure situations because their gray hairs make them look old. This need not be.

Hay's Hair-Health

makes age halt and keeps thousands in employment because it takes years from their appearance. HAIR-HEALTH will positively restore gray, faded or bleached hair to its youthful color. It is not a dye. Its use cannot be detected. Equally good for men and women.

Continued.—At forty my hair and mustache began turning gray. A friend on my road lost his place because his gray hair made him look older than he was. Finding by his experience, I began using Hay's Hair-Health, with the result that I have the same dark-brown curly hair that I had at 24. Have held my position, although many younger men, whose only fault was their gray hair, have been dismissed. I thank you for my position.

New Remedy for Catarrh is Very Valuable.

A Grand Rapids gentleman who represents a prominent manufacturing concern and travels through central and southern Michigan, relates the following regarding the new catarrh cure, he says:

"After suffering from catarrh of the head, throat and stomach for several years, I heard of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets quite accidentally and like everything else I immediately bought a package and was decidedly surprised at the immediate relief it afforded me and still more to find a complete cure after several weeks' use.

"I have a little son who sings in a boy's choir in one of our prominent churches, and he is greatly troubled with hoarseness and throat weakness, and on my return home from a trip I gave him a few of the tablets one Sunday morning when he had contracted hoarseness. He was delighted with their effect, removing all his trouble in a few minutes and making the voice clear and strong."

"As the tablets are very pleasant to the taste, I had no difficulty in persuading him to use them regularly."

"Our family physician told us they were an antiseptic preparation of un doubted merit and that he himself had no hesitation in using and recommending Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for any form of catarrh."

"I have since met many public speakers and professional singers who used them constantly. A prominent Detroit lawyer told me that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets kept his throat in fine shape during the most trying weather, and that he had long since discarded the use of cheap lozenges and troches on the advice of his physician that they contained so much of opium and opium as to render their use a danger to health."

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large pleasant tasting lozenges composed of catarrhal antiseptics. Like Red Gum, Blood Root, etc., and sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents for full treatment."

"They act upon the blood and mucous membrane and their composition and remarkable success has won the approval of physicians, as well as thousands of sufferers from nasal catarrh, throat troubles and catarrh of the stomach."

OUR PRESIDENTS.

Only One Impeachment and but Two Resolutions of Censure.

Andrew Johnson was the only president of the United States ever impeached, and on the trial before the senate he was acquitted, the vote in favor of conviction barely falling short of the necessary two-thirds.

Two resolutions of censure on the president have been passed, once by the senate and once by the house, on occasions when the hostile majority was not large enough either to pass measures over the president's veto or to impeach him.

The first was passed by the senate on March 28, 1834, censuring President Andrew Jackson for alleged violation of the constitution and laws by his removal of the government deposits from the United States bank. The majority of the senate was opposed to Jackson, his war upon that bank, and this act of censure was the only thing which could do about it. Jackson protested against this resolution as an attempt to answer which no opportunity was afforded him. The senate refused to receive the protest. Finally, Jan. 16, 1837, the resolution of censure was expunged from the journal of the senate.

The second resolution of censure was adopted by the house from a committee to which President John Tyler's message relating the bill of 1842 and been referred. The report censured the president for improper use of the veto power, and protested against this, as Jackson had done before him, but he had no member of the senate, voted against receiving Jackson's protest. In answer to his protest the house sent him a copy of the senate resolution on the former occasion.

MILLER CASE

TO BE RESUMED IN COURT NEXT TUESDAY.

Further Testimony Offered by the Doctor's Wife on the Stand—Ruling of the Court.

Probate Court adjourned Friday evening until Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock and the jury and witnesses in the case of Dr. D. H. Miller, were excused until that time.

Mrs. Miller, wife of the defendant, continued her testimony, Friday afternoon, being examined by Mr. Black. The gist of her testimony was given in Friday's Advocate, tending to show that her sickness during last November was not smallpox, and was not caused by exposure to or contact with the disease. Mrs. Miller testified positively that Dr. Probst, of Columbus, had made but a superficial examination of her face, hands and throat, not looking at her head or the bottoms of her feet. She said that Dr. D. E. Stephan had looked at the soles of her feet. She also testified that Dr. Speer of this city, had examined her and said there were no symptoms of smallpox, or words to that effect.

Mrs. Miller stated that the marks or spots on her skin were caused by eczema, and had appeared monthly before that fall's sickness and since.

She was taken sick on Saturday and the first of the next week there had been a missionary meeting at her home, 28 ladies being present. She was in bed at the time, and the defense sought to show that these women greeted her, came in contact with her several times, and the fact that none had contracted the disease was evidence that she was not suffering from smallpox. This was ruled out, the court holding that the fact that every one in Newark had come in contact with the patient without getting smallpox, would not be competent to show that she did not have it.

The witness was subjected to a severe and searching cross examination conducted by Mr. B. G. Smythe, but nothing new was brought out and she was still on the stand at adjournment. The issue is a plain one of fact joined by the pleadings and testimony in the case. The prosecution claims she had smallpox, the defense claims she did not, and this question the jury will decide.

CONVERTED BURGLAR THROWS LIGHT ON MURDER MYSTERY.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Feb. 22.—Chief of Police Albino, of this city, has in his possession a signed statement in which a resident of Council Bluffs states that he was an eye witness to the murder of Frank Richardson at his home in Savannah, Mo., on the night of December 24, 1900, for which his wife has just been acquitted after a sensational trial. Chief Albino has corresponded with the Missouri authorities and the man will go to Missouri as a witness.

The man is Maynard Shoemaker, alias Ed Smith. He has been a resident of Council Bluffs for fifteen years, and while he has never been known to steal here, it is rumored that he frequently makes trips away from home which prove profitable. He has a bad reputation.

Shoemaker's statement is to the effect that he had gained an entrance to the Richardson home on the night of the murder, thinking there was no one at home. After he was on the inside he discovered that a man and a woman were there.

Shortly after another man entered the room and when he discovered the first two he exclaimed, "My God, has it come to this?" He entered the room and the man who was there first came out. He had a revolver in his hand and when in the other room fired. The last man to enter the room fell and the man left the house. Before he left he discovered the other man present and according to the statement in the hands of the chief of police, gave him $5 and the price of a ticket to Council Bluffs to say nothing. Shoemaker did not want to appear as a witness, and accepted the offer.

Recently Shoemaker attended a revival meeting and became converted. At the close of the meeting he confided his secret to the evangelist, who in turn wrote to C. W. Doehner, prosecuting attorney at Savannah, Mo. at attorney communicated with the police here, with the result that after a consultation Chief Albino secured a statement in which he related the story. Shoemaker gives a good description of the man who did the shooting and also of the woman.

JOHN M'DANIEL

Who Learned the Printer's Trade in Newark, Dies at St. Louis—Cousin of Mr. Bostwick.

Mr. H. C. Bostwick, the well known jeweler of this city, has received notice of the death of his cousin, Mr. John B. McDaniels, of St. Louis, Mo. The St. Louis Republic of February 16th, says:

"John B. McDaniels, one of the oldest and best known newspaper printers west of the Mississippi river, died at his home on Evans avenue, this city yesterday at 7 o'clock a. m. Death was due to an affection of the heart. John B. McDaniels was a typical representative of the craft of which he was so long an honored and valued member, and he enjoyed probably a wider acquaintance, and counted more lasting friends than any 'typo' who ever handled the stick. Mr. McDaniels was born in Knox county, O., 55 years ago. After learning the printing trade he worked on various papers in Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis and elsewhere. He was at one time telegraph editor of the St. Joseph Herald, St. Joseph, Mo. Subsequently to that he worked on the St. Louis Republic as proof reader, and up to the time he was taken sick last September had been on that paper continuously. Mr. McDaniels, while working on a Milwaukee paper, set up the original copy of the poem, 'Laugh and the World Laughs With You,' by Ella Wheeler Wilcox. Mr. McDaniels served in General Logan's division in Sherman's army. He was a private in the Twentieth O. V. I. and served throughout the war. He was a staunch member of the G. A. R. and attended every encampment. Two sons, Harry G. and Charles W., besides the widow, survive to mourn his death. The funeral will take place today under the auspices of the G. A. R. Representatives of the Printers' Chapel from every daily paper in the city will attend. Ransom Post, G. A. R., will conduct a ritualistic service, and in accordance with the wish of the deceased, a military funeral will take place at Jefferson barracks."

Mr. McDaniels has many friends in Newark and Licking county who will be deeply pained to learn of his decease. He learned the printers' trade on the old Newark American, where Mr. M. L. Wilson was the editor and proprietor.

SCHOOL GIRLS.

'Tis a pretty age—that time in a girl's life when she has all the beauties of womanhood without the later lines of care and worry.

But here and there even among school girls appear pale and drawn faces.

Pale blood is at the bottom of the trouble and Scott's Emulsion can cure it.

Scott's Emulsion brings back the beauty to pale girls because it is blood food.

THE W. C. T. U.

At the meeting held on Tuesday, Feb. 16, the President and Vice President being absent, Mrs. Keller presided, with Mrs. Wright at the organ.

A short business session was held, after which an evangelistic service was conducted by Mrs. Keller, which was very spiritual and helpful to all present.

A leaflet entitled "How Many Found Jesus," was read by Mrs. Hansberger. After several beautiful songs and earnest prayer, the exercises were closed by the following beautiful poem:

There is no night with one with perfect trust—

Just one long day.

Even though trials come, as come they must.

Along Life's way.

The sun shines as with pulsing glow the same—

As undiminished light.

Shadows fall, but darkness hath no name.

There is no night.

On the 17th day of this month four years ago our great leader, Frances Willard, left her place vacant on earth and commenced the higher life. On or near the date of her heavenly birthday it is our custom to hold memorial meetings in which her life and the results of her life are made prominent. This memorial meeting was held on last Thursday evening at the U. B. church, where the following program was rendered:

Opening Prayer, Rev. Bovey.

Quartet.

Solo, Mrs. Laird.

Address, "In World's Memory," Rev. Bovey.

Song by the L. T. L.

Recitation, "The Martyred Mother," Mrs. Hare.

Singing by the audience.

Remarks, "Widening Ways," Mrs. C. Metz.

Pantomime and song, "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

Recitation.

Song by the L. T. L.

Address, "The Monument we Build," Mrs. Sisson.

Plea for new members.

Collection.

In the course of Rev. Bovey's address he said he would not forget Frances Willard for an address given at Cleveland to an audience of 1200 people. After returning from a trip abroad where she had gone for rest, her physician had forbidden her speaking in public—but this great hearted leader who was constantly working for fallen humanity at the risk of life, accepted the invitation and her clarion voice cried out, "Help me to heal the heart aches of the world." He also spoke of the book she had written, "A White Life for Two," and many other incidents connected with her life. Mrs. Upham who had the meeting in charge wishes to express her thanks to all who so kindly assisted in making the program a success, also to the trustees and Rev. Bovey for the use of this beautiful church.

In presenting the pledge cards and speaking of members in East Newark the president Mrs. Sisson, regrets very much that she omitted the name of Mr. Cool who is a prominent and willing worker. The devotional half hour on next Tuesday will be led by Mrs. Cole. Responsive reading, Mrs. Sisson. This meeting will close the first half year's work preparatory to the Mid Year meeting which will be held at Columbus, on the 5th and 6th of March. We mourn not beloved; nay, how could we mourn thee.

Advanced to a throne, thou our eyes may not see.

We love thee yet never to earth would return thee.

When, safe in the heavens, thou art accepted and free.

We crown thee "Our Leader" forever unannounced.

By queanest service our lives to enthrall.

Heaven's scroll the scroll by which thou art appolated.

We follow—and serve at thy word and thy call.

Till freedom and chastity cometh to all.

Gravity Suspended.
Magician Kellar, whose forthcoming engagement at the Auditorium on Feb. 26, is announced, never claims to do impossible things, but when you see some of his new illusions you will be ready to believe almost anything you hear about him. In one of them he has apparently succeeded in suspending the inviolable law of gravitation and causes whatever he touches to lose its weight and float about, or remain stationary in the air, wherever he wills it. He places a plank in the air horizontally, and it stays there. Then he hypnotizes a young lady and places her in a reclining position upon the plank and both remain. The effect is startling, for the audience has previously been thoroughly convinced that he has had to resort to no such amateur subterfuges as wires, mirrors or the like, to attain the result. In Oriental magic and illusionary work Kellar will this season present a dozen marvelous new illusions, each of which is, apparently, more inexplicable than its predecessor. Yet he tells you plainly that everything he does is the result of trickery, pure and simple. Get on to his tricks if you can—if you do, you are shrewder than most people. His entire entertainment of Hindoo illusions and new tricks in small magic will be given here next Wednesday evening.

GOLD FIELDS
New Ones Found in Darkest Africa, Which May Become the World's El Dorado.

London, Feb. 22.—Reports from experts in Africa, if borne out by developments, are likely to have an important influence on the world's gold and copper supply. A report from Assinie says a reef of quartz gold, eight feet wide and panning from two to eight ounces, has been opened on the French Ivory coast.

From North Rhodesia the British Chartered South Africa Company has received news of the discovery of a copper field, estimated at 40 square miles, 150 miles north of Victoria Falls. Copper assaying 44 per cent, is being secured.

The Chartered Company's Cape to Cairo Railroad will be diverted in order to pass through the copper field.

Coming Monday Night.
Love in the truest sense of the embodiment of all the highest ideals which may be possessed by man or woman. To treat of this potent factor in the existence of every human being requires undoubted grace and skill. Mark Twain placed love on a high pedestal when he wrote "Pudd'nhead Wilson," but when completion marked the efforts of the dramatist, love had been elevated for an infinitely higher plane. Throughout the course of this magnificent comedy there is that indiscreetly delightful strain of a finer feeling which appeals to all classes of people. It has made the play an undoubted success, and one of the most pronounced triumphs of the drama of the present generation. Theatre goers of this city will have their first opportunity of witnessing this entrancing company at the Auditorium Monday night Feb. 24 and it is pronounced now, that the verdict of the critics who witnessed the first performance, that it was a success, will receive at the hands and from the minds of our theatre goers, their stamp of approval. Owing to the strength of the cast there will be an artistic presentation and Shipman Brothers who are directing the tour anticipate an unusually large attendance in this city.

Altoona (Pa.) Man's Experiments With a New Process.
Clarence R. Obilivier of Altoona, a graduate of Lehigh university, is experimenting with a process for reproducing photographs on fabrics.
The method consists in a deposition of silver, gold and platinum from various salts of those metals, says the Philadelphia Press. It is said to be a satisfactory process in every respect, and the work has been subjected to extreme tests to insure its absolute permanence. A print was boiled in water for a quarter of an hour, and no change was noticeable after boiling. The picture is not only on the surface, but extends through the fabric.

What Morgan Made in 1901.
Two well informed Wall street men were discussing J. Pierpont Morgan. Said one, according to the New York Press, "I have had a long talk with a member of his firm, and while he let fall no secrets, yet from what I could gather Mr. Morgan made last year $42,000,000." The other agreed that the estimate was practically correct from what he could learn.

JOHN L.'S AWFUL THIRST.

Ex-Champion Pugilist Says It Broke Up His Show.

With the air of a man to whom a financial crash is but an incident in this vale of tears, John L. Sullivan accounted for the collapse of his "Uncle Tom's Cabin" show in Jersey City the other day by saying simply:
"The whole trouble was that my awful thirst bust up the show."
None of the members of the company disagreed with John L. Frank Remington, the Lawyer Marks of the company, said:
"The trouble was we couldn't make money fast enough to pay John L.'s hotel bills. He must have consumed an awful lot of food."

"Food? Food is good. You mean the old hard stuff," grunted the actor-pugilist. "But I have reformed. It's nothing but cold, cold water for yours truly after this. I am going to be a pattern for every boy in the land. Proud mothers can tell their sons to follow in John L.'s footsteps, and they'll be led every time to the ice cooler. It's going to be a sad story for the whisky trust from now on. They'll miss my thirst all right. I've got a friend in Cedar Springs, N. Y., who keeps a hotel. I'm going there and drink all the water in the town. When I get back to New York, I'll be a sight. Strangers will point at me and say, 'There's a man who never had a drink in his life.'"

Melancholy indeed was the outlook which confronted Uncle Tom, Topsy, Little Eva, Eliza, Simon Legree, Lawyer Marks and several slaves when they awoke the other morning in the show's car in the yards of the Pennsylvania road, says the New York World. George B. Downing, manager of the company, had faded away unexpectedly regardless of a financial stringency existing in the car. Outside it was cold. Uncle Tom and a couple of slaves intimated, that breakfast would be a good thing. Topsy tried to cheer Eliza's spirits by telling her that the river was full of cakes of ice and that she could easily walk across to New York.

George Watson, the porter in charge of the car, brought matters to a head. There was $20 coming to him for services. Quietly he went up to the district court in the city hall and got out an attachment on the cakes of ice and other scenery in the car. That was the final blow.

No very violent protest had been made at Trenton, where the company played to a one hundred and fifty dollar house and where John L.'s "food" bill in one evening amounted to $33. The reason was that one of the slaves had unguardedly protested at another Jersey town, where most of the receipts had been swept away to meet the ex-champion's "food" bill and he had received the punishment that old John L. used to administer to his ring victims.

"How could any show support a thirst like that?" whispered Little Eva, pointing in the direction of Simon Legree, otherwise Mr. Sullivan. The ex-champion rose to the occasion.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he said, "yours truly is not doing any ducking or side stepping to dodge the fact that his horrible thirst has caused all this trouble. I've got some friends left. You'll all get breakfast, anyway, and get over to New York on the ferry. Those cakes of ice are too slippery. Even Eliza might fall in, and the water is real."

Mr. Remington later produced the $25. His father has a prosperous calico in Jersey City and is a great admirer of Mr. Sullivan. When he got the $25, John L. shared it with the company, giving each one more than he retained himself. The company promptly disbanded.

HISTORY

OFF THE CAPTURE OF MISS STONE MISSIONARY.

Taken by Bulgarian Brigands on Sept. 3 Last—Definite News Anxiously Awaited.

Miss Stone was taken by the Bulgarian brigands on the afternoon of Sept. 3 last, while on her way from Bansko, Macedonia, where she had been holding a kind of summer school for Bible workers. She was going to Djumalak, about half a day's journey on foot and horse from Bansko.

The party by whom she was accompanied consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Tsilka missionaries; three or four Bulgarian teachers, who had been attending the school at Bansko, and six students from the college at Samakov.

While the party was passing through the foothills it was suddenly surrounded by about forty armed bandits, who, after despoiling the missionaries of all their valuables, separated Miss Stone and Mrs. Tsilka from their companions and carried them off into the mountains, then set the others of the party free.

Later in the same day the brigands sent word to Samakov that unless a ransom of $110,000 was placed into their hands by October 8 following, Miss Stone would be put to death.

News of the capture reached Chas. M. Dickinson, American consul at Constantinople, who at once began measures looking to Miss Stone's release. He was materially backed by the State Department and by Spencer Eddy of the American legation at the Turkish capital; but all diplomatic efforts were negated by the fear that Miss Stone would meet an untimely death if the brigands were pressed too hard. The Bulgarian government dejected to send troops after the robbers, but was deterred by the request of the American diplomats, who feared that pursuit would only defeat the purpose most desired.

Meanwhile the friends of Miss Stone in America, led by her brother, Chas. A. Stone, in Boston, set about raising the required ransom by popular subscription, and the bandits deferred the date of their ultimatum to Nov. 9. Several postponements were made thereafter, and the robbers finally agreed to accept the money raised although it was considerably short of the sum demanded, and to release Miss Stone and her companion as soon as the foliage began to appear in the springtime. Miss Stone remained in the mountains in the garb of a Macedonian shepherdess and was allowed now and again to send word to her friends at the outposts of civilization.

The ransom money, $72,500, was paid over to the brigands February 6 by M. Gargiulo, chief dragoman of the American legation at Constantinople, and W. W. Peet, treasurer of the American Mission at Constantinople, who met the brigands on the road to the Podrome monastery.

Miss Stone, about whom two continents have been talking for the last five months, is one of the most ardent missionaries following the cross. She is a direct descendant of John Rogers, the martyr, also of John Elliott, the missionary, and of Miles Standish, the Puritan soldier.

She was born at Malden, Mass., and was consecrated from her birth to the missionary service. Her first religious work was that of a Sunday school teacher, and just twenty-three years ago she gave up home, family and friends to go to Samokov, where she became a teacher in the already growing girls' school at that place.

Making her home at Philibonite she traveled thence as a teacher in all directions, and often through most perilous countries.

Mrs. Tsilka, her companion, is a graduate of the school at Samokov. She was formerly Katherine Demetria Sepanode, a Macedonian girl, the daughter of an orthodox Greek priest. Her husband is a Bulgarian. Mrs. Tsilka, after her graduation at Samokov, came to America to complete her education. She was given a two years' course at the Moody Institute at Northfield, Mass., studied the Froebel system in New York, and finished by taking a course at the Training school for Nurses in the New York Presbyterian Hospital.

While on a visit to the Adirondacks she met M. Tsilka, himself a missionary, who had come to America to study. They were married and returned to their home in the East, where they at once took up the labor of missionaries.

in the Conservatory of Music in a Prize Contest.

Miss Zoa Fulton, of this city, a student in the Conservatory of Music at Ithaca, N. Y., has been successful in winning a scholarship in the conservatory in a prize contest.

Miss Fulton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Fulton, and a popular favorite in Newark society. Miss Fulton possesses a contralto voice of much promise in range and quality of tone, and her friends in Newark have no doubt but that she will come rapidly to the front as a vocal artist.

Died At Zanesville.

Gottlieb Schoeller, a carpenter, who formerly resided in Newark, where he was well known, died at his home in Zanesville on Friday night, after a lingering illness of a complication of diseases, aged 69 years. The deceased formerly worked in the B. & O. shops at this point. The funeral will probably take place from his late home in Zanesville on Monday. He leaves two children, one son and one daughter, Gottlieb of this city, and Mrs. Charles Mylius who resides in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Pig For Marriage Fee.

"A Lutheran minister in a western Maryland town told me an amusing story the other day," said a gentleman to a reporter. "Some time ago as this minister was walking along a street of the town an old German advanced toward him with extended hand. The minister shook hands, but remarked that he could not recall his name. 'Oh, yes,' said the old German, 'you remember me! I am the man who gave you a pig when you married me.'"

Looking Out For Papa.

A sweet little maid of four years was distressed the other evening because her father did not come home to dinner on time. Her grownup sister said to her: "Papa is naughty, and when he comes we won't give him any tea." When he did come, the sister sent the teapot out to the kitchen for fresh tea. The baby looked on with a troubled face and stole softly to her own room. Shortly she returned with something squeezed up in her tiny fist. Going up to her sister, she whispered: "Annie, I'll give you all my pennies if you'll give papa his tea." And, opening her hand, she displayed all her carefully hoarded pennies.—New York Times.

DEBATE

ON THE PHILIPPINE BILL IN THE SENATE.

INDIAN APPROPRIATION BILL IS PASSED BY THE HOUSE.

SECRETARY LONG IS TO RESIGN

Just as Soon as President Can Name His Successor, Say Mr. Lodge's Friends.

Washington, Feb. 22.—For more than six hours the Senate had the Philippine tariff bill under discussion. Mr. Bates (Dem. Tenn.) delivered a speech in opposition to the pending measure. He was followed by Mr. Spooner (Rep. Wis.) in a defense of the Republican attitude toward the Philippine Islands.

Mr. Spooner discussed at length the ratification of the treaty of Paris. In the course of his statement he was interrupted by Mr. Wellington, who said, "I would give 10 years of my life to recall the vote which I cast for that treaty." He declared that the promises made to him at that time "by the Administration" with respect to the treaty were broken.

Mr. Spooner denounced the subproposition made by the minority of the Senate Committee on the Philippines as "the most mischievous project that could be devised by the wit of man in the present status of affairs." "It is," he exclaimed, "a bill to raise 'I' in the Philippine archipelago—a bill which has no merit whatever in it."

Mr. Tillman, in opposition to the pending bill, declared that the expression of the motives for enacting the bill were a subterfuge and a humbug, and everybody knew it. "It was," he said, "a damnable doctrine," yet we called ourselves liberty loving Americans and declared our pride in our ancestry.

"The first thing," he said, "which the carpet bag vermin in the Philippines would do (as they did in Cuba) would be to get their hands into the pockets of the people and steal all they could. I expect Governor Taft has already caught some of the scoundrels, but that would not be a good thing to ventilate in the United States just now."

The House resumed consideration of the Indian appropriation bill and the bill was passed.

Final ratification of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, giving England's assent to the construction of a canal across Central America by the United States, were exchanged at the State Department at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. There was very little ceremony.

Secretary Long has confided to personal friends his desire to relinquish his official duties as soon as the President is fully prepared to name his successor, in order that he may resume his law practice in Boston. The indications point strongly to Governor Crane, of Massachusetts, as Long's successor.

RAILROADS.

Veteran Engineer Ill.

Barney Banning, the veteran engineer of the P. C. & St. L. is off duty at present on account of illness. Barney Banning is one of the best known engineers on the road. He commenced work as a fireman on the old P. C. St. L. before the other C. was added to the initials and was rapidly promoted. For more than 18 years he was in charge of engines hauling fast express trains, and about two years ago, in order to give him an easier run with opportunity to be at home at night, he was given a local run between Pittsburg and Dennison.

In the early eighties, when the new engines designed by Ross Kells, master mechanic of the Dennison shops, were introduced, Mr. Banning had charge of the No. 56 and this engine hauled a special train from Pittsburg to Dennison, Zanesville, Columbus, Cincinnati, Richmond and Indianapolis. The No. 56 was considered a very heavy and powerful engine in her time but would be a mere pigmy compared to the monster machines now in use.

HER HINT.

Borelle—"I shall probably call again."
Miss Weary—"I shall always be charmed to see you some other evening, Mr. Borelle."

AT OUR BOARDING HOUSE.

Jonesy (cheerfully)—"Here's where I win the bet, Mrs. Feodem. I said I'd bring you down on a feather. Here's the feather with considerable force on it."

SHORT BUT SWEET.

Her Mother—"What! Mr. Kidley has proposed to you! Of course you gave him a short answer!"
She—"Certainly I did. I said 'yes.'"

GOT IT STRAIGHT.

Visitor—"Now, my little man, can you tell me what is a vulgar fraction?"
Little Man—"I'm not sure about the fraction, but I heard ma say that you were one of the vulgar persons she ever saw."

READY FOR HIM.

Mr. Kicker—"Susan, that parlor lamp is smoking."
Mrs. Kicker—"Well, what of it? Have you missed one of your cigars again?"

CONTRADICTORY.

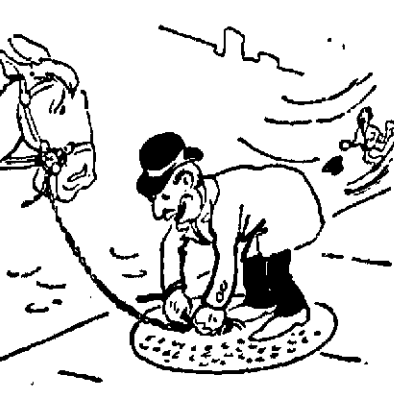

She—"How dare you slander me so! You know I hate you! I never was up in arms against you, and you know it."

"We have here my new electric flash producer. As perfectly dead and harmless."
"But by causing the shaft to revolve upon its axis—"
"We obtain, as you will see, a blinding—"
"Er—um! Something must be out of order and it is still perfectly—"
"Harmless to the t—each—"
"Gee whizz!"

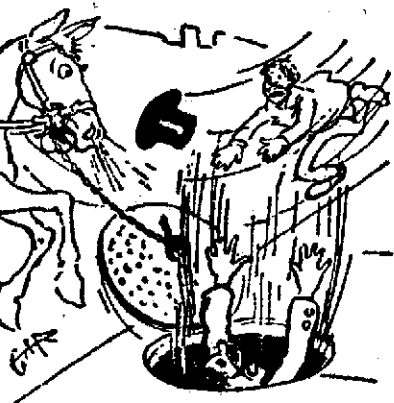

RETRIBUTION.

"These coal-hole cover rings are mighty handy to hitch to while—"

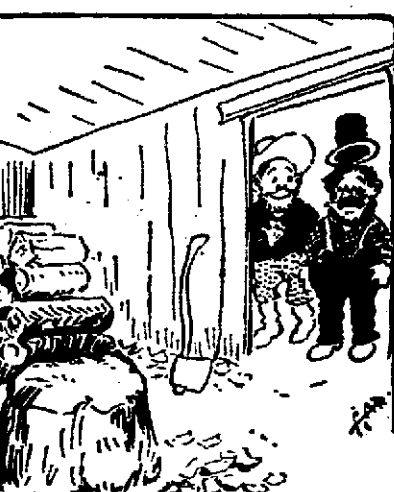

"Haw, haw! See that old chump chasing—"

MEAN MAN.

Farmer—"Yes, I'll give you something to eat in return for work. Saw this pile of wood and when you get through I'll take you to—"

OVER THE PHONE.

Uncle—"I don't know about using these electricity inventions. But seeing there's a storm coming up I'll just see if I can't tell them hotel folks to send a bus as—"

Flash! Bang! Siz: "There! I just know something would go off. Don't try to let on to me that lightning hit the wire. I never could get used to these new-fangled contrivances."

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION.

Jenks—"Oh, say! Nell and John have made up again."
She—"Well, is that news? I don't know about John, of course, but I am very certain that Nell makes up every day of her life."

Lady of the House—"Here's enough food for your breakfast and dinner, I think."
Tramp—"But how about supper? Don't I get any?"

INQUIRING MIND.

Little Johnnie—"Hub! Anybody could eat three of those tarts."

GREW UPON HIM.

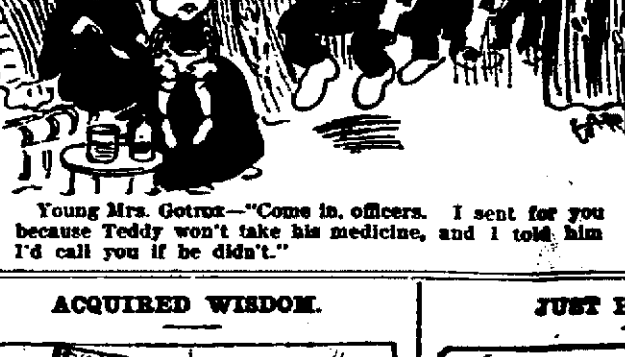

"Anyhow, I could get away with—"

FIRMNESS WITH CHILDREN.

Officers—"Run, fellows! It's a hurry call from the Gotrox residence. Must be kidnapers or something!"

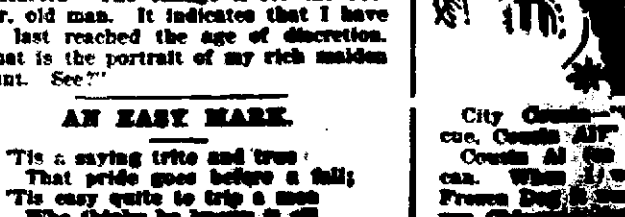

"Now be ready in case a burglar jumps! Get your guns out!"

Young Mrs. Gotrox—"Come in, officers. I sent for you because Teddy won't take his medicine, and I told him I'd call you if he didn't."

ACQUIRED WISDOM.

Percy—"Last time I was here you had a portrait of Dolly Dashington, the handsome soubrette, in that frame. Why this sudden change for the worse?"
Harold—"The change is for the better, old man. It indicates that I have at last reached the age of discretion. That is the portrait of my rich maiden aunt. See."

AN EASY MARK.

"I'm a saying trite and true. That prize goes before a fall; 'Tis easy quite to trip a man Who thinks he knows it all."

PASSING COMMENT.

Mr. Parker—"How perfectly absurd it was for Jinks to elope with that old major!"
Miss Turtledove—"Yes. It was a regular take-off on her part."

HIS NERVOUS BLUFF.

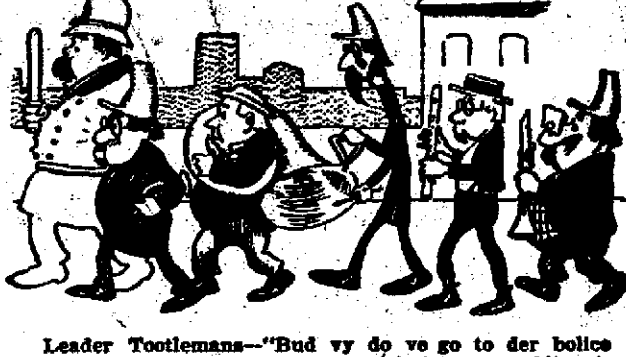

Red Bill (the terror)—"Ere, little chap, wot're you pokin' me fur? Want to fight?"
Little Jerry—"Naw, but me big brudder does. He's a-waitin' dere fer you ter swat me! See?"

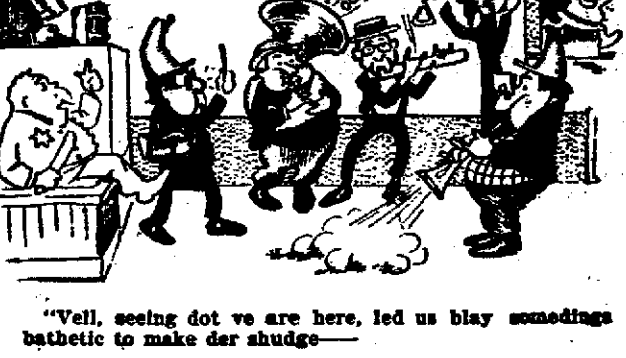

THE HUNGRY FIVE.

Leader Tootlemans—"Bud vy do vo go to der bolice stations, Mister Bolliceman? Ve haf broke noddings!"

"Well, seeing dot vo are here, led us blay somedings bathetic to make der shudge."

"Feel bedder, alretty."

FOCUSED.

Mr. Knowno—"What's the use going to a photographer? I'll just take—"

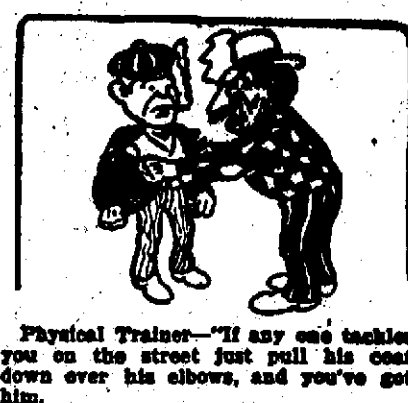

City Council—"On you handle the case, Councilor Alf!"
Councilor Alf—"You bet I can. When I was town marshal of Fresno, I had my special duty to run down the case of such."

SENSITIVE.

"It isn't your blunder you can live on. It's your blunder you can't live on."

DEMONSTRATION.

Physical Trainer—"If any one tackles you on the street just pull his coat down over his elbows, and you've got him."

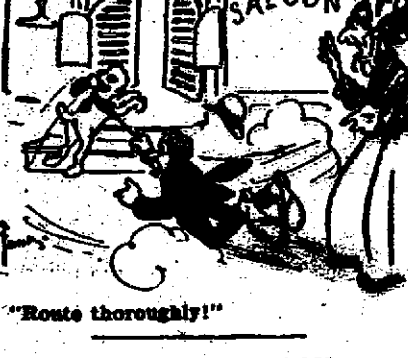

"To prove it, step up and get hit—"

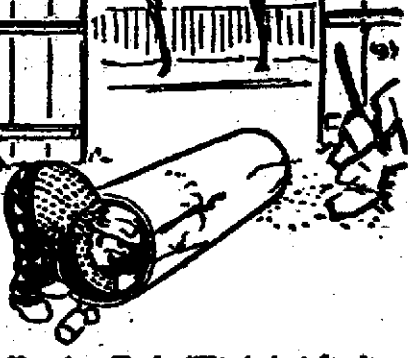

"A raw with that feller, and—"

"Try it on him. Aw, now you got it in de neck. You did it wrong!"

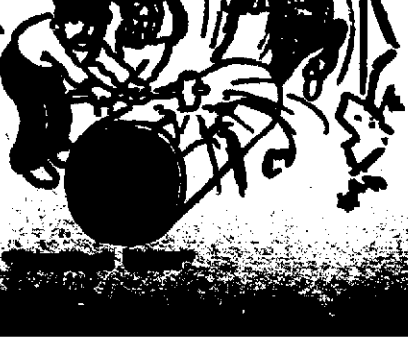

Snooty (to wealthy aunt)—"Yes, I take Pointer with me wherever I go. He knows my—"

"Route thoroughly!"

Homeless Hawk—"Here's just de place for a quiet nooze."

"An' I'll just enough in an' dump on I hear de—"

Mr. Feller—"Yes, I'm a self-made man."
Fred, Shadlocks—"Er—um—get the material of a bargain sale!"

SAFE OLD JOKE.

Wise Boarder—"What have we got for dinner to-day?"
Fussy Boarder—"Oh, most everything to-day."
Wise Boarder—"Oh, dear! Hash again, eh?"

DIFFERENT.

Jinks—"Did I understand you to say that you had a new pair of wings on your house?"
Buck—"How! I said 'in', not 'on'. Marie thinks our new baby is an angel."

FURIOUSLY OPTIONAL.

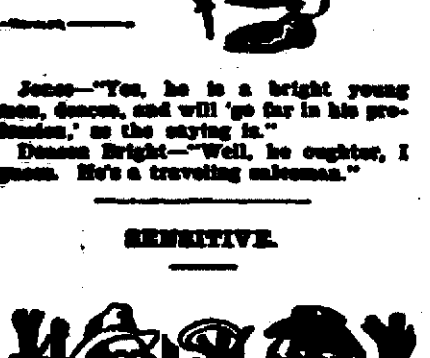

She—"Don't you think marriage should be made in heaven?"
The Judge—"Not at all. I can marry people my choice across the way, or on the street for that matter."

MILRAGE.

Jones—"Yes, he is a bright young man, George, and will go far in his profession," as the saying is.
Dorcas Bright—"Well, he oughter, I guess. He's a traveling salesman."

"An' I'll just enough in an' dump on I hear de—"

"It isn't your blunder you can live on. It's your blunder you can't live on."
